Just keep me moving on
That's what I'm telling myself
I guess I should get fixed
All the parts are broken

It happens all the time
I wonder where I am
How long must I wait
For everything to end
You will never know
The time it takes to heal
It's taking far too long
For everything to end

Another lie to taste
I love the way they feed me
We never had to leave
For our destination
Can't look you in the eyes
I only want a friend
The thoughts beneath my face
Will anybody care when I fade away...I fade away...I fade away...I'll fade away

It happens all the time
I wonder where I am
How long must I wait
For everything to end
You will never know
The time it takes to heal
It's taking far too long
For everything to end

The insects around me are all hanging on
They're feeding on money and not on the tones
I'm getting so desperate for something worthwhile
You say I have music but that's nothing at all
The army inside me is a little confused
If you don't need me why you're not letting go
You say that they're washed up unable to shine
We're sad and pathetic 'cause we've ended up there too

It happens all the time
I wonder where I am
How long must I wait
For everything to end
You will never know
The time it takes to heal
It's taking far to long
For everything to end

I wonder where I am
You will never know
How long must I wait
