I've been the innocent across the continent
Began in utero, but watched my army grow
I'm on a broken path, a road that no one chose
I played the devil's game and made them angels cry

This game the stakes are high, I bet my life on all
I heard some voices call..."That boy is suicide"
I stole from east and west and mixed two cultures up
I don't apologize... I'm here to fuck things up

I've seen that money flow, I've bathed in diamond wine
I've spent my nights alone with pretty reptile girls
I've had my photographs inside those magazines
I've had my words misread and used to cut me up

I pay no mind at all
With every breath I know
Oh the weak will try beguile
It don't bother me

I've been the one you never thought I'd be
I've been the one you never thought I'd be
I've been the one you never thought I'd be
I'm everything you're not
I played the game and won

I pay no mind at all
With every breath I know
Oh the meaning's out there but no one seems to see

I've been the one you never thought I'd be
I've been the one you never thought I'd be
I've been the one you never thought I'd be
I'm everything you're not
I played the game and won
