

Fhangor "Your Eyes"

Visit "Your Eyes" on MotoLyrics.com

Soft wind's blowing as the evening comes
The sun is painting pictures on the sky
The light's rebelling just before the dark Ravens all the shapes from watcher's eye.

Influenced by looking at the play
Feelings coming up and seem to stay
Leading to the times when you have gone
Covering my live like darkness sun.

But I see your eyes wide open, throwing glances of desire,
They are leaving words unspoken burning in their
sparkling fire
They show unknown places where I long to be
They are promising some things I ever wished to see Now I'm standing here and feel my heart breaking by
the thought we live apart

Now so many days are floating by Nothing's here that makes me really high
Even wise words telling how to do
Can't help to make me forgetting you.

Cause I see your eyes wide open, throwing glances of
desire,
They are leaving words unspoken burning in their
sparkling fire
They show unknown places where I long to be
They are promising some things I ever wished to see
Now I'm standing here and feel my heart breaking by
the thought we live apart.

Visit Fhangor page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.