I will, I'll always remember
The days, the nights we spent together
The happiness of being with you
The sorrow of parting from you

More than a hundred miles away
You live, tho sure I love you always
Seeing you again was heaven
Now you're gone again and it's hell

September's not
September's not so far away
September's not
September's not so far away

I will never again ask you
If there, if there is any chance
I understand you wanted to be
Wanted to be closer, live free

I hope every call is from you
I'm not convinced I should not love you
I am really missing you so
Wanting to be kissing you so

September's not
September's not so far away
September's not
September's not so far away

September's not
September's not so far away
