All of these ghost towns
I keep traveling through
All of these traffic signs
And lonesome bars
Blindsiding me to you and
I swear I can be better
I could be more to you
But there are things
That lie in my path
That I just have to do

If you've got visions of the past
Let them follow you down
And they'll come back to you someday
And I found myself attached
To this railroad track
But I'll come back to you someday
To you, to you, to you someday

And I remember how you told me
All that you wanted to do
The dream of Paris in the morning
Or a New York window view
And I can see it now you're married
And your wife is with a child
And you're all laughing in the garden
And I'm lost somewhere in your mind

If you've got visions of the past
Let them follow you down
For they'll come back to you someday
And I found myself attached
To this railroad track
But I'll come back to you someday
To you, to you, to you someday

Maybe I should just turn around
And walk away
For no matter how much I really do
Want to stay
You know I can't
No it's too late

For I've found myself attached
To this railroad track
But I'll come back to you someday
To you, to you, to you someday
