I'll be holding on

Verse

If only things were just the same
I'm hoping things will change
When I look back
I crawl back to you

You're like an angel
I can play that
I never thought that we could break up
Is that all you have got to say
I can play that, I can say that,
I can break that, I will take that

Chorus

I'll be holding on
even if I look insane
I've been finding it hard to say goodbye
When will you be gone
Because you ripping up my life
Now nothing is the same
I'm the one to blame

Verse

All-I-just-wanted
Confronted all the time by your irrational words
Of hate and love stop messing with my mind
Maybe I should just bite my tongue
Wiser words that I have sung
Lock my jaw and say no more
You're the one I cry out for (even if I wanted more was better.)

Chorus

I'll be holding on
even if I look insane
I've been finding it hard to say goodbye
When will you be gone
because you ripping up my life
Now nothing is the same
I'm the one to blame

Bridge

You cried in the morning
When I left I kept on stalling
And I have said somethings to hurt you
Because I, don't deserve you
Back when, this was a story
A messy end, A painful mend
And this was where I wanted it all to change
