You didn't want to move

but now you can't stop your body

you can't 'cause you are here to dance with us

but now you feel like you're higher you feel like one

who's living all the time

And when the night comes out I know it would not last for long, so dance with me

And when the sun wakes up again, we're ready for another happy day

but now you can't stop your body

but now you feel like you're lighter

you feel like one

who's singing all the time

And when the night comes out I know
it would not last for long, so dance with me
And when the sun wakes up again,
we're ready for another happy day
