We wouldn't have lasted the night
I am wrong and Your right
We wouldn't have lasted the night
I am wrong and Your right
We wouldn't have lasted the night

Must feel good
To always be right
Knowing the future
As you do

No matter the situation
Your right and I am wrong
Without any reason for alarm
You charge me with fault

How will you ever know
If you don't ask or tell
How will I ever know
If you don't ask or tell

This misunderstanding you have
Will only cause you future unrest
Will only cause me to further stress
About these things that do not matter anyway

How will you ever know
If you don't ask or tell
How will I ever know
If you don't ask or tell
How will the world ever know
