Your methods of breaking me down have worked
I am under your control now
All things seem to be without meaning
Your in complete control now

What am I to do now
What am I to do now
What am I to do now

Was it always your intention
To break me down
What do you plan to do now
What am I to do now

You don't want me anymore
And claim to have never
You say you want more
Though my constant endeavor

Tell me please
What am I to do now
If not with you now
Give me a clue now

What am I to do now
What am I to do now
What am I to do now

It's not cool it seems
To cry over a broken heart
I'm a fool it seems
And was right from the start

As I fall apart you just walk away
Bleeding on my knees
Thinking of what you use to say
What am I to do now
What am I to do now
