From the album Truth Seeker

Two broken souls washed up on the shore
Too alone to keep searching for more Wandering the unknown when you first looked into my eyes
Now time has flown and I can't face the goodbyes

Hear me say, I can't escape the magic you weave Everyday, we count down 'til you leave
My faith, my fear, are now one and the same
But deep down I know, it won't take the fire from this flame

Believe me, I love the way these feelings burn
You'll see, I'll be waiting here when you return
I'm completely
On my knees for you

The horizon calls for you to see distant skies
You put yourself on the line to answer distant cries
No time, no tears, just a hole in my life
And a long goodbye, I need you to hold me tonight

Believe me, I love the way these feelings burn
You'll see, I'll be waiting here when you return
I'm completely
In love with you

I know, just from your smile
It's something sacred that we share
And even though, a million miles will separate us
You know that I'll be there

Believe me, I love the way these feelings burn
You'll see, I'll be waiting here when you return
I've completely
Fallen for you
