So they say, that things will never be the same
Either way, Iâ€™m not one of the pieces in your game Everything, Iâ€™ve spent my whole life working towards Has disappeared, to make way for your fortunes and your wars

Take it away, take it away
I see you closing all the doors
Try to take it away, take it away
What makes you think that that decision is yours?

I am here, right on time
I am here, to claim what is mine
I am here, to attack
You have my future and I want it back

Economy, is the impact on my life based on your luck Because everything, has gone in the name of making a quick buck
Gambling, with other peopleâ€™s lives is dangerous Enemy, youâ€™ll always play the game, the price tag is high enough

Take it away, take it away
I see you closing all the doors
Try to take it away, take it away
What makes you think that that decision is yours?

I am here, right on time
I am here, to claim what is mine
I am here, to attack
You have my future and I want it back

Children of recession, follow me, follow me
We are the key to progression, follow me, follow me
Children of recession, follow me, follow me
We are the key to progression, and one day weâ€™ll be free
