I can't justify
The way I feel about you
However hard I try
It seems my own lies are becoming true

You're everything that I could ever want
Everything that I desire
But a dark sky rages when I see you
A buried fury, a self igniting fire

This feeling, feeling
Forever dragging me down
This wound isn't healing, healing
Time to turn my life around
Around, around, around 'cause it's still upside down

I can't let it go
Though I know the fault is mine
It seems I lack the faith to
Lay my love on the line

You're everything that I could ever want
Everything that I desire
But a dark sky rages when I see you
A buried fury, a self igniting fire

This feeling, feeling
Forever dragging me down
This wound isn't healing, healing
Time to turn my life around
Around, around, around 'cause it's still upside down
