[INTRO: Mossberg Fresh]

Boy you can step to this
That's cool cause my daddy used to love to step

[VERSE 1: Mossberg Fresh]

I wanna start my verse by thanking my late daddy
I love you pops
I'm glad you and moms had me
Marvin Gaye Playing
Pops What's Going On
I'm sad I couldn't say by
We ain't talk much on the phone
You should've seen how I cried when I heard you was gone
Outside of class when me and Ria got off the phone
Aunt Lay lay sent me 300 hundred to get home
So she gone be on as soon as I get on Me Brit and Linen cruising on the road
Louisiana is hot but it feels so cold
Sometimes I can't sleep I feel I'm crazy
But I keep my cool cause that's the way you raised me
Pops you part of the take over
So when I get on moms getting that new rover
And I love my momma
You can talk about anything but my momma
That includes momma Polly
Yea that's my momma
Talk about momma
And it gone be drama yeah
Pops watch over
And god please watch over him and granny Louise
And grandpa Lee
Uh huh
Rest in peace

[HOOK]

[VERSE 2: Shaun Linen]

Now this ones dedicated to my ex
Who inspired me to leave thank you for the help
I got up off the sheet and sofa
My mind is made up I'm taking over
Baking soda how I whip tracks
Yeah mastered that
Work until I die
Maybe even after that
Question is there a heaven for a G?
Well what about the pimps, pushas, and sex fiends
Regret leaves, such a bitter after taste wish
My conscience was as clear as my face is Wish my record was as clean as this suit is Explains the sudden move to the boot yeah
I did my dirt washed my hands
Got on my knees
Thanked the man
For all my flaws
All my strengths
The bottom chick who's gonna pay my rent
Yea yea yeah yea yeah
Is that what you really fiend for sad
Neighbors always seem to have the greener grass ask
Are you looking at the king in his face?
Yeah! always knew I'd say that Always knew I'd do this Always knew you would quit
But shit (But shit)
You had to do me like this (Like this)
My fuel to take over
I wish my son could see this
