For all of her diction, her self medication
She fell down and dented her nose and laughed at the coroners
Desperately warning her, watch now the way that it goes
And she knows

She's living at the top of the world

In need of salvation she spoke to her mother
Who died in the service of king
What is the meaning of wallflowers receiving a glance
It would mean everything
And she thinks

She's living at the top of the world

Three minutes later she looked in the mirror
And cracked half a smile at her toes
And she knows, she knows

She's living at the top of the world
