I woke with a start today
Determinations [Incomprehensible]
Filled with expectation
[Incomprehensible] to go out

But I am so fearful of the future
Ignorant of the present
I'm wary of the past

Through the door
I shuffle him quietly down the hall
Identical corridors
And artificial lights

The man in the box
Born to set my world to right
Effortless to ignite
Screaming in my head

With hope the catalyst
Will blow my joy away
But you thought that
I'd have so much more to say

Can't save me now
Can't save me now

But I am so fearful of the future
Ignorant of the present
I'm wary of the past

When I awoke to a blue sky
With a haze of red
True, I [Incomprehensible]
Pissin', suck up to the man

No wonder I'm tired
When I awoke with a start today
