Milling 'round, encroaching on
My right of way and under the Battle scars of Daddy's latest lesson

Little time for intuition
Little time for cry babies
Come on son, can't you not take a joke?
More sticks and stones to break you

It's freezing in here, can't even dress yourself
Lie awake still waiting
On a single bite of cherry for you
Hold it in your arms

Jeopardize what little you have
See any further than your own faults
A single bite of cherry for you
And yours is not to question

And down the road a shining haven
[Incomprehensible]
Live around the corner from themselves
You'll never break the chain, will you?

It's freezing in here, can't even dress yourself
Lie awake still waiting
On a single bite of cherry for you
Hold it in your arms

Don't jeopardize what little you have
See any further than your own faults
A single bite of cherry for you
And yours is not to question

Question it all, clutch your pride
And all you could ever learn
The sorrow they endure
No hope left for you to nurture

I just wrote the ending years ago
Way down the line
Don't you run too far away from home

Don't you trust what you have never known
Don't go far, remember where you are Remember where you are

A single bite of cherry for you
A single bite of cherry for you
A single bite of cherry for you
A single bite of cherry for you
