Se was trapped within a lie A misleading thought to hold on to her whole wasted life
And how she made it through the night
No one knows except the few who had the luck to survive
But she wanted, yes she needed

...cause she wanted...yes she needed

And to those who pulled their knives She just smiled because she knew up front that they would all die
You can't blame her, not tonight
'cause I know what happens next because yours truly survived

...cause she wanted...yes she needed
But I cannot give what I try to give Wrong time for me

-a fractured soul to kill the need-
-a bleeding heart for me to heal-

...cause she wanted...yes she needed
But I cannot give what she needs, she needs, she needs

-a fractured soul to kill the need-
-a bleeding heart for me to heal-

From then on we're gone!
