Let's find a way to be in this moment for eternity
Don't ever wake me up, connected to infinity

Oh the passage of my time, do you see it like I do?
As if this is my end, love like we'll never meet again
I push the sky away, I'll be ghostly here with you
If I died right now, this moment would never end

Hold on to what you've got
And I will never let this pass me by
And if I hold my breath just long enough
Then this could be the rest of our lives

Am I holy now, singing loud, London is on fire We're the endless searching souls if we don't breathe,
That's my conspire

Oh just let me be, every minute of my life
And let them know that I was here,
Written in the stars at night
So not one little piece of my living fades away
I could live as if I'll never live again

Hold on to what you've got
And I will never let this pass me by
And if I hold my breath just long enough
Than this could be the rest of our lives

Closer
Don't be afraid come closer
I swear it's worth the suffer
I promise we can fly before we hit the ground

One moment
If you can choose one moment
Where you would stay forever
Where would you choose to stay into eternity

Don't question
I'll make a last confession

I am so scared of losing what I gain that I'd rather have nothing at all

Hold on to what you've got
And I will never let this pass me by
And if I hold my breath just long enough
Than this could be the rest of our lives
