(Verse)

You can take my breath away with one movement.
I live out every day like it's your moment.
I'm in my off to death today and I can't use it.
You told me you'd come yesterday, but you're still absent.

(Chorus)

When I look around, look around
You are gone.
When I look around, look around
You're still gone.

(Verse)

You can hide my breath away on your ocean,
But you'll live and breathe my pain at your dose.
And you told me you'd be mine today, but you're still absent.
I've only half of who I am, but you can have it.

(Chorus)

When I look around, look around
You are gone.
When I look around, look around
You're still gone.

(Bridge)

Your cream touch keeps my time tick in.
But every minute's a mess when you're not in it.
I still feel you from a distance,
But every minute's a mile when you're still gone,
You're still gone,
You're still gone,
You're still gone,
You're still gone.

(Chorus)

When I look around, look around
You are gone.
When I look around, look around

You're still gone.
