On my way home thinking â€™ bout what you said
About me and you soon have to end
I canâ€™t recal this beeing optional
I canâ€™t change my mind yet alone decide slowly
I can see the signs but rearrange your mind poorley
Why canâ€™t you see what your doing to me?

Moments will pass some you hope not will last
But the other day i wish could stay
You would get bored iâ€™d call it magical
I can see the sings, shut up drink your wine slowly
I can feel the tide but rearrange the sight poorley
Why canâ€™t you see what your doing to me?

You were a unexpected whitness to a murder in motion
You stood there and watched as my heart hit the ocean
floor
Never to see light once more

Buses and planes may take me far away
While distance change this stays the same
Will anyone here tell me itâ€™s natural
Use to park our car real up nice and far, lonley
Nothing but the stars and dashboard of our car glowing
Why canâ€™t you see what your doing to me?

You were a unexpected whitness to a murder in motion
floor
Never to see light once more

If I walk out that door iâ€™ll be happy no more
But if I stay here inside might just lay down and die without youâ€¦
