

The O.C. Supertones

"Birth of the Uncool"

Visit "Birth of the Uncool" on MotoLyrics.com

I don't understand, it's so in to be unaffected, they only like the cynical bands, the Bible belt's been disconnected, they point and laugh, at everybody who believes in something.
Let them laugh,
I'd rather be alive so we'll be

Singing and smiling and dancing and crying and pouring out our hearts to Jesus, joking and loving and caring and wearing my heart upon my sleeve, if it's hip to be dead inside I'd rather be a fool,
'cause time is way too precious to spend it being cool.

Just act like you don't care, that's the way to be a cool kid, a bored, blasphemous empty stare, is all you need to be a cool kid,
they point and laugh, at everybody who believes in something.
Let them laugh,
I'd rather be alive so we'll be

they never fail 'cause they don't attempt to do anything but ridicule, be cynical,
I'd rather be uncool.

Visit The O.C. Supertones page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.