Don't believe a single word i say
Believe me, words never mattered anyway
You're trusting everything i lie about
And i wonder, why your head is fill with doubt
I'll fade away
Just trust me
I'll fade away
Just trust me

Downtown it's getting time to leave a phone call she shouldn't have received
Stories which one should i believe?
Your next breath you forget to breathe
Downtown it's getting time to leave
a phone call she shouldn't have received
What do you do, when no ones around?

9 words on the tip of your tongue and it makes me hate you this wants to break you 9 words hiding under your breath, there's nobody left,
we know we're the best

Glass breaks from fallen picture frames
Your blood still flowing through my veins
You tried so hard to make no noise
STAB TO MY BACK, a stupid choice
When no ones around (breathe)

Try to forget it
Try to forget it
Try to forget that this is me, Saying this isn't worth it

Try to forget it
Try to forget it
Try to forget that this is me
Just let go
JUST LET GO
