An adequate reminder the note you left with bad news on good days you're one track with bad days so here I stand with broken bones trying hard to make you smile don't you think it's time having gone without you for a while here I stand with broken bones

so start a fire, and watch it burn change the season, the leaves all turn into the colors when we fell into each other the time is winding, but we're both hiding from whatever we'll become so take a breath, from an empty chest cuz we've fallen out of love

trying hard to make you smile(2x)
