Visit "Return To Me" on MotoLyrics.com

you rise like a wave in the ocean and you fall gently back to the sea now i want to know how to hold you return to me
return to me

you shine like the moon over water and you darken the sky when you leave now i want to know how to keep you
return to me
return to me
turn to me

everything i tell you has been spoken and everything i say was said before but everything i feel is for the first time and everything i feel i feel for you

i am here calling the wind i am here calling your name i am here calling you back

i know what it means to be lonely and i know what it means to be free now i want to know how to love you
return to me
