Deep in the night, your body sings songs, to me in the night, but I can't sing along, cause you won't invest in someone half-dressed, so deep in the nights where I'll stay. Deep in her mind there's a patience abused, it can keep you alive, or it can destroy you. Cause you don't regret the standards you don't set. So, deep in the nights where I'll stay. Deep in the nights where I'll stay.

Everybody was looking at you. And the thought never passed you'd been used, so you're drunk and confused.

If you should find, the price that you're worth, you should keep me in mind, but if it just gets worse, don't get upset, it's useless I guess, deep in the nights where I'll stay. Deep in the night where I'll stay. Keep me in mind when you wake.
