Who left the lights on? I've got nothing to say, I've been waiting for your calls while you're talking all day, guess you're never gonna say why you act that way, so I'm better just to give it away.
Hear that sound? I think that there's a ghost in my house, and I feel OK. Oh where'd you run off to now, I think you left a ghost in my house and it takes your place. And I can hardly wait to forget your face.
So walk (?) your eyes up, and shut off the ways (?), I don't want to have to listen to what you've got to say, say you're going to leave or say you're going to stay, cause I'm sick and fucking tired of the games.

Hear that sound? I think that there's a ghost in my house, and I feel OK. Oh where'd the sunshine go now, I think it's leaving ghosts in my house, and its erasing days (?). Oh, And I can hardly wait to forget your, ahhh, please, don't wake me up I'm fast asleep, I said ahhh, please don't wake me, shake me, bother me. I'm fast asleep.

But did you hear that sound, I think that there's a ghost in my house, and I feel ok, hey, but where'd you run off to now? I think you left a ghost in my house, and it takes your place. Oh, and I can hardly wait to forget your, I can hardly wait to forget your face. To forget your face
