Never gonna forget how you taste, never gonna wash your sins away, standing with your hair perfectly straight, comin'™ down the lines across your face, never gonna forget how this feels, standing with a smile finally real, sitting in the car hands on the wheel, driving to the park to be concealed. Thanks for the visit.
Ah, thanks for the visit.

Never gonna find someone like you, never gonna be so truly blue, yesterday you said we'™ re through, caused a mix up in all my views, tangled up my piece of mind, when you loved me then it died, but I got time for me to find, some new comfort in my life. But thanks for the visit, ah thanks for the visit.

Sitting from the glass where I exist, waiting on the world to let me in, seeing that you'™ re leaving me again, but thanks for the visit, ah thanks for the visit, ah thanks for the visit. Thanks for the visit.
