No matter what satellite hearts believe
There's only one thing that I can say to you
Only hear your voice
Never your words
Only watch them on your lips
And I'm jealous and tied
Sweet Lady Lullaby

My eyes are so heavy
Carried off on
The breath of your divine song
Even the heavens cry
Sweet Lady Lullaby

When the night falls and cloaks your pretty face
Will the stars no longer shy away
Sweet Lady won't be back 'til the light of day
So they twist and burn
How angelic they shine

But people always find
Yours is a beauty of a deeper kind

So go now and live your life
Pure and innocent
True sacrament
A window to my soul
And I cry
Sweet Lady Lullaby
