well im tired of playin second best not knowin wat move to make next its a game i wont come close to win so il give up while im ahead and the runnin around tryin not to get caught headin to the playground someone falls and when you bruise you will see you can lose this one thing oh im chasin nothing running around again hopin for something to evolve from it hoping that the stars will shine brighter than they did last time oh i no im chasing nothing x2

running around in circles going round and round like the world does i cant help it its just somethin that i do when im missing you
