It's been a long day;
I know nothing was real,
I came back to where I was all along
She loved me one day
The next,
How would I feel?
If her love was not there anymore,
Believe now, Believe how?
The number of times
I tried to believe somehow
Well it's true when the time the heart bends
The fear for truth has to hide till the end.

Your love was not there all along
I've seen your eyes tell me
I've felt your words betray me more
You don't love me anymore.

Now your kiss stings like thorns
Now your touch entices love unborn
Now your smile reminds of the world I don't want
Every day and every night's gone
And I was fine all along
The times have gone.
And now they're fading away.
And I love you and I love you
But you're too far away
Yes I love you, yeah I will do
And I have nothing to say.
Believe now, Believe how?
The fear for truth has to hide till the end.

Your love was not there all along
I've dreamt of us, believe me.
Didn't know my heart deceived me, no...

You don't love me anymore.

It's been a long day.
I know nothing was real.
Your love was not there all along
I've dreamt of us, believe me.

Didn't know my heart deceived me, no...
You don't love me anymore.

Dreams don't love me anymore.
