Another day begins
Feel the ocean air on your skin
Feel your heartbeat pounding loud
Feel the rain as it's pouring down

"It's been a while," he says to the wind
With his bloodshot eyes and a devil's grin
He goes out into the unknown
And prays to God he'll make it home

That's why we sing

We all wanna go home
We all wanna go home
We all wanna go home

Another night will end
With a loaded gun in his hands
He hears bombs crashing in the distance
He thinks of home and hopes that they miss him

And although he chose this road
He fears the future and what it holds
Alone with explosions
He prays to God he'll make it home

That's why we sing
We all wanna go home
We all wanna go home
We all wanna go home

We sing
We all wanna go home
We all wanna go home
We all wanna go home

Another night with a crowd
Hear their voices shouting loud
By the hundreds they keep me company
But I feel all alone right now

And as distance takes its toll

I fake a smile with an empty soul
I sing songs with broken lungs
And then pray to God they all make it home

That's why we sing
We all wanna go home
We all wanna go home
We all wanna go home

We sing
We all wanna go home
We all wanna go home
We all wanna go home

I'll go alone
