You gotta wake yourself up
And see the life that you lead
Before you go down in flames
Think about the things you say
Every single one of your best traits
Are fraying at the seams
As you continually fall apart
Should searching
This conversations over
Go find another lover

Don't think you've got me figured out
You don't know a thing about me anyway
Ill take my chances on my own without you

Cause every little halo
Cant save you now
You brought this on yourself
So just leave me on the shelf alone
Cause i don't wanna be the toy
You come to when you bored
With everybody else
And now you'll know how to fall
Stop reaching
When this embrace is over
We'll never have another

You know a thing about me anyway
Oh, you don't know a thing about me anyway
