i cant explain the reason for this but somehow theres pain holding this inside where it stays until i find the key to your heart but you make it so hard but if hope is around one day i'll find it why do we always seem to want what we can't have why do you think that kissing me is something bad goodbye to the breaker of my heart if you want me around one day i'll find you i've waited for someone (someone) someone like you (someone like you) Try me once i'll be there (i'll be there) I'll be there for you

You know my name but you won't call me close theres something strange that you hear i'm missing your face

until i find the key to your heart
