I keep falling down
Because I never listen
I never listen

I keep falling down
Because I never listen
I never listen

There's nothing left now
It's all disappeared out of me
I shouldn't wake up in the morning
I know I'm just gonna repeat

I keep falling down
Because I never listen
I never listen

As everything now crumbles beneath my feet
I shouldn't even try to save myself
What would the point of it be

I keep falling down
Because I never listen
I never listen

I keep falling down
