Breath in slow, take it down now
Its alright to be bold.
Understand that first impressions
Are ever lasting old.
Its hard to see the good in everything,
So watch for all the signs.
You told me that there was something else,
So follow your advice.

I can tell, just by your look now
That something's got you down.
Raise that head, it's smile not frown now
Remember what you said.
It's hard to see the good in everything, so watch for all the signs
Don't back out you've got a place to go, away from the simple lies [Chorus]
You've got this friend it could last forever (forever)
You've got this friend it could last forever
I've got mine, you've got your, tell me what you'll do me for
Cause I know you've got your way and you'll be fine.

Take that chance look around you,
We'll drive the night away.
Relax for seconds pass us slowly, this day will last a year.
Strange but clear the purpose were here, it's not for us to choose.
Relax your head and tie your shoes, come on.

You've got this friend it could last forever (forever)
You've got this friend it could last forever.
I've got mine, you've got your, tell me what you'll do
me for
Cause I know you've got your way and you'll be fine.

Here we are,
Were at the crossroads of our life again what do we do.
Wanna make a choice we'll choose.

And Saturday I've got your back were gonna strap it to the fire,
Trial by desire.
But I know I'll be home soon follow me.

You've got this friend it could last forever (forever)
You've got this friend it could last forever.
I've got mine, you've got your, tell me what you'll do
me for
Cause I know you've got your way and you'll be fine.
