[Verse One]

His name is Jessy, we kicked it since we was little kids, throughout his life there's a bunch of stuff that he shouldn't have did, he was cool but there's a lot of stuff he could have fixed, but addicted to drugs is what I had thought he couldn't get, until he had started hanging around them other kids, who showed him how to drink a corona and puff a cig, and introduced him to weed without it's supplements, so whenever he was feeling down he take a couple hits, it ain't really bother me cause it was nothing big yo, it only bothered me when he started to fuck with crystal, I'm sure he knew that doing it wasn't a smart move, he'd walk around with humongous pupils like cartoons, I tried to tell him his life goes to be ruined, but he just told me to, chill out he knows what he's doing, and now I'm thinking hard if i should get hostel, and said fuck it, and watched him take it right up his nostril.

[Chorus]
