VERSE 1

Let me go....

Fighting with my self, you're all i think about you gave me love that i couldnt even dream about came from nothing, we were just mates mates turned into lovers, love turned into hate i guess its just fate, we were so great we can still work this out, its never too late put the past behind us and whats been said then i remember all the things and the voices in my head

"I love you baby" How can you tell me that? in a year you've put me through hell and back running to your ex or getting with another guy i always put you first but all you done was tell a lie running back to you, give it another try i cant leave without you, i'd rather die uhh... i guess no matter what i do it will always be about you

CHORUS

Im gonna try my best even if that means that i gotta let her go
though i gave you my heart, you chose to tear it apart and let me go
And now Im burning.... And now Im burning.... And now Im burning....
And now Im burning.... And now Im burning.... And now Im burning....

Its too much now, im moving to another girl not even thinking, knowing she will crush my world bottle of wine down my throat, up in there doing it what am i doing here? i aint even proving shit uhh... i need my baby back, so i tried to call i will never leave, i will never fall but then i cant even look her in the eyes so i always try hide it all Then i look back, i see Devil i know shes made mistakes but i took it to another level like a game of tennis, keep on going back and forth love is good but nothing is as bad as love God, im sorry for my wrongs i shouldnt lie to her cos i love her so much, i would die for her uhh.... its a true story.. dont worry... i promise...

CHORUS

Im gonna try my best even if that means that i gotta let
though i gave you my heart, you chose to tear it apart
and let me go
And now Im burning.... And now Im burning.... And now Im burning....
And now Im burning.... And now Im burning.... And now Im burning....
