With a new pair of open eyes
To see a world of light
This where I belong
I don't want to wear this skin tonight
So I'll just say goodbye
To everything in this old life

Set fire to all of your beliefs
Let it all rain down
Burn it all
Just to set us free
So we're not bound
Set fire to all of your beliefs
Let it all rain down
With new eyes I will watch the flames
Burn it all away

I am letting go
Of all the weight
That tried to hold me down
Because I will dream until the end
I put it all to rest
Never looking back
A future with no past
And this is my chance to begin again

Set fire to all of your beliefs
Let it all rain down
Burn it all
Just to set us free
So we're not bound
Set fire to all of your beliefs
Let it all rain down
With new eyes I will watch the flames
Burn it all away
Burn it all away
Burn it all away
Burn it all away
