

Hudson Henry "Rope And Wire"

Visit "Rope And Wire" on MotoLyrics.com

All the soundless lips, that turn to you
With somber in their breathe, holds the word to ridicule
(Oh) Why do we bask in lies?
Just to slow ourselves down
(Oh) Why don't we realize
That we should silence them now

So tell me, so tell me now
I need it, I need it now
And always, a haunting sound
A regret, and I'm bound

These viscous regrets
That haunt and corner me
Takes all the reasons
And shakes until they scream

(Oh) Why do we wait so long?
To follow our hearts
(Oh) This is the time for us to take this apart

So tell me, so tell me now
I need it, I need it now
And always, a haunting sound
A regret, and I'm bound

All these precious lies will fade tonight
But it sets our souls apart
All the rope and wire, tied to you
Will never leave a mark

So tell me, so tell me now
I need it, I need it now
And always, a haunting sound
A regret, and I'm bound

Visit Hudson Henry page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.