Intro:

I feel a little misunderstood, but who am I to blame, I do my raps with a lot of metaphors and no shame, no sir, no shame! I bring it down I let my raps decipher every other human being! I cover them in the metaphors n similes! You can never stop me, yes I feel misunderstood, so bitch you don't know what I'm saying so let me explain! Its Ice on the track and im back where I belong, Im explaining shit that you don't even know, and I could never do better at it, since im at the best at it, since im giving the best at it and im mo' like im an addict, what am I to say uhh!

Verse 1:

Yeah I am music and I live for the music. Period fact number one. Fact number two, im always in the studio, so if you looking for me go there! I'm probably in the vocal booth recording another freestyle with the double cup, Styrofoam white! I don't care what you think of me cuz I am who I am and I wont diverge. Uh, a lot of people, they don't completely understand me, especially you ladies. Just cuz of my title and what I do doesn't mean im that type of person with that type of character! So don't place me in the wrong drawer and lock it! Think twice and then decide! Now that's just the fact and who I am and all I can say is go ahead and abide.

Chorus:

Yeah, I feel misunderstood, and that why im freestyling right now in this booth! (Yeah) Just dropping all these feelings on this mic!

Verse 2:

Uh, I know there's very few of you who understand so for those people meet the real Julius. I know a lot of you, don't know who Ice is Yeezy and Yeezy is Ice! Now the only point im making, is that y'all cant go hate or love somebody, if you don't really know who that person is. (Yeah)

(Music)

Verse 3:

Uh, never lived in the hood and never discovered the hood life. Never dealt on crack or cocaine and if I woulda have the possibility, I would probably say no! You can kinda see me like Chuckee, no drugs n no weapons. That's the fact and that's how it will stay. (Uh)
