i'm on this vessel for the first time on this wet deck falling sailors scream i'm losing grip i'm on this vessel for the last time this ongoing storm won't leave us this never ending nightmare will soon consume our souls i'm hanging on alive, overboard please don't leave me drowning here please don't leave me dying here tonight the captain stares in fear a hundred miles from the coast line our guide is lost, our sails are running loose

tonight i'll sink before you in this frozen sea
the abyss will treasure me my legs are numb

the cold is pulling me down my body's sinking i'll kiss the surface goodbye
