Part Of Me

When I looked deep in your eyes
I saw the paradise
When I heard your sweet voice
I heard an angel chant

I never thought that I could find Such a divine being
I was enticed by your magic Everything seemed perfect

But it was only a dream and now I'm awake
I have lived a lie with you
Just an illusion, nothing was real

I can't believe how fool I've been
So blind that I gave you my entire life
So you could be part of me (part of me)

Now you're away, I understand that your ephemeral love was a game
I still believe you are a part of me

When we were together
The loneliness was gone
We have learned from each other
All we know today

But you made me believe that I was the best but anyone can be the best
It could be me or somebody else

I can't believe how fool I've been
So blind that I gave you my entire life
So you could be part of me (part of me)

Now you're away, I understand
that your ephemeral love was a game
I still believe you are part of me

It's not your fault, who can I blame?
What I can do? It's just my fault
Because I trust in a fake speech
In all those words you always say

You told me I, I was the one
Maybe you tell, you tell the same
To others preys, to win their love
You've never had true love
