Im calling you out tonight
Cause you call yourself a friend...
And thats what I need
So come and waste away the evening with me
But I would keep a close eye on that door
Cause its your only route for quick escape
Cause I...
Ive layed my cruel intentions on the floor

I know... Sometimes... Ive blur...
The lines between poison and remedy
Your pressure of my needle on...
Your skin... I know... Sometimes... Ive dance
The fine line between friends and enemy

Now do you think youll... GO
Will you stay with me
I need to know... KNOW
Im taking you down with me

Calling you up tonight
Im wondering if youll share the dead of night with me
Cause in the daylight comes reality
And Im thinking that I could...
I hoping I can find a way to share whats ailing me
Its the future in its finest form...
And my...
Misery loves company
And I...
Will try to bring you down as I climb for the top
And I will smile...
As I make plans to stab you in the back
I know... Sometimes... Ive blur...
The lines between poison and remedy
Your pressure of my needle on...
Your skin... I know... Sometimes... I dance
The fine line between friends and enemy

Now do you think youll stay?
