"Like The Summer"

It's too late for you to shine, 'cause all your time is gone
Remember the day I lied and tried to take you on I'm wrapped up in shadows that you cast against my wall
So take your leave, make like a tree, so everything can fall

It's gone, all wasted
Like the summer - overrated

It's too late for you to light the street that takes me home
For blinding me enticingly from everything I've known

It's done, situated
Since the summer segregated

It's done, situated
Since the summer segregated

It's gone, all wasted
Like the summer - overrated
