"The Noose"

Well our souls are all mistaken in the same misguided way

We all end up forsaken, we're just choosing our own way

The future now incinerates before our very eyes
And leaves us with emptiness of no more tries

Well our visions of glory now have spiraled down the drain

The best of our intentions now come crashing down in flames

The depths of our despair we are unable to contain
It's shallow living

The noose is falling
And all my friends are crawling
The noose is falling
And enemies are rising

A truth appalling
Our maker comes a calling
The noose is falling
And enemies are rising

Well the tracers from yesteryear are burning in the dust
Your bruises are reminders of naivety and trust
You're only feeling stronger 'cause your body's getting numb

Now I lay you down
Put the coins in your eyes
And blow the candles out

The noose is falling
And all my friends are crawling
The noose is falling
And enemies are rising

A truth appalling
Our maker comes a calling
The noose is falling

And enemies are rising

The noose is falling
And all my friends are crawling
The noose is falling
And enemies are rising

A truth appalling
Our maker comes a calling
The noose is falling
And enemies are rising

No more!
No more!
Nothing!

No more!
No more!
Ever!

No more!
No more!

The noose is falling
And all my friends are crawling
The noose is falling
And enemies are rising

A truth appalling
Our maker comes a calling
The noose is falling
And enemies are rising

The noose is falling
And all my friends are crawling
The noose is falling
And enemies are rising
