I took a glance at the room full of strangers
Won-der-ing what, they think
But straight away I knew I fit in there

Within my soul I was sensing some danger
Within a blink I knew I needed a drink
Try to avoid, the feeling of your long stare

Maybe you saw I had the strength of a tiger
Maybe that's why, I amaze
Can't every man possess the strength of a tiger
Just like me

Thou I'm feeling weak I've been kicked around the whole town
Now there's nothing left to do but Prove to you the strength of this tiger
Prove to you this man
Cause the axel grinds for nobody else
That's why I do the best I can

I wish that people could see what you do
Not 'fraidy cat, not a cub
But there's a he-man living inside me

Rest be assured there is no uncomfy voodoo
That makes me brave, only when I love love

Love makes me strong, I climb above the moutains

And in this world I fight for freedom
I will revolt, I'll seek

And in a way I find, strength as a tiger
Can't you see?

Please let me take my time, as I turn 'round
I ain't ever been before
And if I seem just too small for this whole town
Wait 'till you see me
