Everything is falling apart, yes, I am

Watching me watch birds watch people
Watching me watch birds watch people

I wear my bow tie to bed
'Cos I'm waiting for the gorgeous young man
Hiding in the spaces
That darkness hides gorgeous young men

Everything is falling apart, yes, I am

Watching me watch birds watch people
Watching me watch birds watch people

We are only waiting here to die
At least let me put my arms around you
Why try to keep it from myself
When it feels so good to sing about love?

Everything is falling apart, yes, I am
