When you come around
Everything else disappears
My ears disappear
When you come around
Everything else vanishes

Crowds slowly fade
When you come around
Everything evaporates
When you come around, around, around

On the news at night
They talk about the disappearances
They interview the people
Who were witnesses
Most are shocked, some don't care

When you come around
Everything else disappears
My mouth disappears
When you come around
Everything else vanishes

Birds have no heads
When you come around
Everything loses its legs
When you come around, around, around

On the news at night
They talk about the abnormalities
They interview the people
Who are authorities
Most are intrigued, some don't care

When you come around

When you are near
I feel so far away
From the person, I am alone
I feel like I'm jumping
On a trampoline, trampoline

When you come around
Everything else disappears
My eyes disappear
When you come around
Everything else vanishes

Sunlight swims away
When you come around
And even darkness won't stay
When you come around, around, around
Around, around, around
