Hello from inside a shell you can see me cause my shell is invisible. It was made especially for me by the brilliant inventor Lecithin E. I ride my unicycle downstairs to his laboratory when I know he's there Working on robotic aquatic bees, perfecting his mechanical donkeys or running from exploding test tubes.
Hello from inside a shell you can see me cause my
made especially for me by the infamous inventor Lecithin E. I ride my boat car through the rays of his reverse magnetizer when I'm feeling brave. Then everything I touch shoots into space and astronauts shake their fists at us saying be careful. He's promised to build us a world of our own far away from this one In uncharted regions where no one will go.
He's promised to build us a world of our own. We'll find an island somewhere near the North Pole And He'll invent lots of strange new animals to inhabit it so we won't feel alone. And we'll be happy there there there all covered in snow.
He's promised to build us a world of our own and here we go
