It's easy to sleep when you're dead
But you're unable to touch your loved ones
Give them kisses or see them smile at you

It's easy to sleep when you're dead
But you give up your life's work
And you can't reverse the bad things that you did

While alive you still have hope
That when you die it must be better
When you die you're dead and you know for sure
If it's better, better, better, I hope it's better

It's easy to sleep when you're dead
Though you can't feel the warmth of summer
Smell the flowers of spring or drink cider in the fall

It's easy to sleep when you're dead
Though it's too late to say the words
You wanted them to hear when you didn't have the nerve.

You get to spend eternity thinking about your life
Think of all the time that is
'Cause eternity is forever, is forever, is forever
What will I do forever?

At this time there is nothing
You can change
You can only sit and watch
And hope they understand

It's easy to sleep when you're dead
'Cause there isn't anything else to do but sleep
I feel sorry for the dead

I feel sorry for the dead
I feel sorry for the dead
I feel sorry for the dead
